

Homophobia

Place: Infant Jesus Learning Academy, Quezon City (I.J.L.A.)

I was tutored by my teachers to help with my assignments and exams. I went to my history teacher Sir Ian to learn today's topic about LGBT+. We questioned what this does and my teacher asked if this was a problem. He told me that the same sex can't have children as a family. So I talked back saying how about adopting a child. I know the same sex can't make a baby that I learned at my 5th and 8th grade about reproductive system. The next day Sir Ian talked to me back about adoption that makes children know their parents did not make them. A few days later at the class Sir Ian asked us a question. He said "If you're on the beach, which gender are you attracted to?" I said "doggy." I was that shy covering my heterosexual attraction. My classmate Adriel said to me that I was a "Zoophile." Another thing Sir Ian said was that Christianity would ban homosexual people at the church.

I was watching on the television in YouTube that I saw the latest recommendation of Game Theory about Five Nights at Freddy's. I saw LGBT+ gives money to Scott Cawthon then gives to the politician that does not favor LGBT+. It's like more of a betrayal. Scott was receiving death threats from LGBT+. Scott Cawthon was a Christian, Game Developer and Animator like me. I became his fan after how similar his works are and the exact date of Matpatt's retirement as my birthday. I was an adult at that time. Here is the link I watched: ▶ Game Theory: We Need To Talk About FNAF

I was at the computer lab. Sir Art was teaching us something while I didn't listen because of my classmate Kristel. She asked me if I believed in Christianity and she knew I am a loving Christian person. I said to her I didn't believe it. I remember three reasons I have Atheist thoughts:

1. In my elementary days that Sir Ric taught me about Religion and Scientist had different opinions on what they are believing. Some scientists believe in Charles Darwin Evolution Theory while some abrahamic religions were created by God but it doesn't talk about evolution according to religious text.
2. I watched the Castlevania series on Netflix. A dragon told the priest that it was all a lie. So that's how I became an Atheist thought on how religion made up.
3. I watched the Jaiden Animations video. She told me she was afraid of having a bad future by believing the fortune tellers. The fortune tellers can have more money by removing bad futures, but on my scientific discovery it did nothing. This is the link I watched: ▶ I Let Psychics Read my Future

She telled me "Why?" I said to her "Can you see God and Spirits?" She went silent about what I said.

Few days later, Kristel and my classmates having a debate on same sex marriage. The side of not favor is talking about a religion problem. So Kristel shouted back "Why would that be a problem if religion was made up!" My classmates are not gonna debate saying "OOOHHHHH!" The not in favor side said "Do you see two gay people loving each other being laughed at!" Kristel said "Haha. Do you think two heterosexual ugly people loving each other makes them laugh!" classmates saying again "OOOHHHHH!" The teacher that I don't remember her name said "This debate doesn't make me more boring than the others."

That's how I changed the LGBT+ community.

I remember I was having a talk with the younger learners for the church. We were Caticism. I said "LGBT+ was against Christianity. Even though I am against it, I support them." After now as an adult I realized I don't want to support them winning in politics. Like it happened about the left politics supporting Donald Trump as president.

I searched more about what game engine suits the best for making a video game. The time I quit using Roblox Studio, having time to struggle with college and game making. I watched Godot versus Unity on which game engine. That it had its own pros and cons about those game engines. I saw there were cons about Godot and that's the twitter drama. I searched about that and now I know Godot was having a downfall by posted "Apparently game engines are woke now? Well then we won't complain.

Show us your #Wokot games below"

Godot became my main game engine to make video games. Because of how easy to use, more tutorials, and all features that are free and had more than other open source game engines.

These are the links to learn more:

- ▶ Godot Engine officially Responded, it's not going well

A few days later I got a recommendation on YouTube that some people are mad that Stardew Valley only makes you pick only two genders for the character. Stardew Valley was a game made by only one game maker that was named Concerned Ape or Eric Barone. Link again to know more:

- ▶ Stardew Valley has a "Diversity Problem"

Another recommendation I got showing the reaction to the pride parade by Amir Odom:

- ▶ Reacting to Insane Gay Pride Parade Clips

Something happened to Markus Persson, the video game creator of Minecraft. The credits were removed by Microsoft because of his twitter post being woke politics.

Now that I understand LGBT+ was a problem.

Me and my little brother Max are eating outside of the church. We had a food vendor to eat there. I talked to Max "I get why same sex marriage was a problem." Max talked back "You know it supports children to get adopted." Then I said, "What would happen if he disguised as a girl. They were married without knowing his real gender. And divorce was illegal, how could a husband marry a female if marrying more than one was illegal to Christianity." Max was being quiet about what I said.

I was sending more comments on YouTube and I saw a notification made by FiryTwig. I remember the comment that I said about LGBT+ post is hurting members that I know. I remember the comment that I sent to her post TRANS... PARENT... You know PARENT and TRANS combine to one word. Whatever it is she commented more about my one comment. I didn't even read it and she knows what I am thinking about how I became heterosexual incompletely. I apologized for what I commented. She said "LOL get banned for being homophobe." I commented to her that "I feel hurt and I care for the enemy." I deleted my account before by someone using my account to get banned on discord. and the care "It's my guilt of pirating a Minecraft game without buying, and thought on I.J.L.A. asynchronous class about seven last words of Jesus Christ. I will talk more on how I love and hate on Christianity later in this Diary Life Story.

I can't even add more links about those two. I already know these two had more videos about this. Give me something to rest so that you read this okay. If you did something without scientifically helping, thank you. After that I went back to watch Game Theory about Scott Cawthon having a political mistake. Then I had more recommendations about it.

I saw more recommendations that Gen Z are woke. As my Generation I feel offended that I am not that political bottom right woke person.
